Newsletter 2018 Week 1 Term 2

Hi all and welcome to term 2!

I hope that all our families enjoyed a lovely break and had the opportunity to just enjoy some time to relax and spend quality time together. I certainly was busy visiting friends and family and simply having a few days away from work. But, we were all back on board yesterday and I really enjoyed the smiles on the faces of the kids!

The yard during first break was "alive" with a full new set of scooter ramps. Meg Langley's father (Robert) very generously volunteered his time to build us 3 big ramps and 3 smaller ramps. The kids absolutely loved them and set themselves up a "super circuit". We had bikes, scooters and skateboards all manoeuvring their way around the course! Excellent! There will be a video uploaded soon! While walking the yard, I also saw kids in the junior sand pit making a Dinosaur Jurassic Park! Check out the pictures! I love watching kids play, invent and develop their resilience skills.

Today we have Dan Petro working in our classrooms. Dan has been involved in the school for a couple of years now and I look forward to his continued involvement. Dan will be in each classroom supporting our work in assuring that all children's needs are being catered for in developing their individual programs. Dan will also be running a FREE PARENT INFORMATION NIGHT on Thursday 19th April. This will be at 754, in the staffroom from 6.30pm to 8.00pm. Child care will be provided and I really encourage all parents to come along to this informative event. Dan will give very practical advice and suggestions, plus he is always willing to answer your questions. Unfortunately I will not be able to be present on the Thursday night as I will be in Warragul, involved a SEVR (South East Victorian Region) performance review.

As you know, Monday was a student free day. This was a fantastic professional development day all about reading at 754. We have a non negotiable way of teaching reading in all classrooms, that promotes consistency and of course we insist on excellence at all times! I am excited about the potential for improvement in all areas of study, but in particular the reading results for our kids should truly "kick off" now! All staff were well and truly engaged and excited by the day's learning.

Staff changes: Stephanie Hanson will be leaving us at the end of this week. Stephanie's family are moving to Tasmania and she has been successful at attaining a job at a school in Burnie. We will certainly miss Stephanie and her excellent classroom teaching - we wish her and her family well with their new adventure. Tonight staff will be having a dinner to celebrate Stephanie's work at 754.

Angela Bell will be working in 56A for the remainder of the year. Angela has already this year completed a lot of emergency work and so I am really confident that it will be a smooth transition for all 56A students.

Continued:

Whilst on the 56 team, this week will see each grade go sailing for a day and completing first aid training for another day. Tuesday was the first of the days and all feedback was outstanding. (Thank goodness, the wind dropped down a little) I'm sure that all the students will enjoy being challenged both mentally and physically in this demanding sport, plus, having first aid knowledge is always a skill for life. A little like house insurance, something we should have, but never want to use.

Thanks for the chat and I hope that you are able to get along to Dan's parent information night.

Talk soon.

Looking at Behaviour

Simply stated, behaviours are actions or conditions that can be observed. The majority of human behaviours are desirable and necessary for individuals or groups to function productively and safely.

These desirable behaviours will typically continue to occur because they are strengthened by the outcome of the behaviour itself. For example, a person looks at you, smiles, then says "Good morning". You then respond by smiling back and returning the greeting. Because of your response, that person is more likely to greet you in a similar fashion the next time.

However, when undesirable behaviours occur they too may continue depending upon the response. Generally, the reaction to a given problem behaviour will strongly determine if that problem behaviour can be modified to something more desirable, or if the condition becomes an even bigger challenge for everyone involved.

Behavioural Resources Australia

Behavioural Resources Australia is a consulting practice dedicated to helping people and organisations respond to problem behaviour situations in a fashion that is straightforward, effective, and focused on desirable results. By providing a range of speciality services in specific environments, Behavioural Resources Australia works in partnership with clients to promote safe change and effective decision making that respects the rights and independence of individuals, in concert with the client's requirements.

Dan Petro is a Behaviour Analyst and director of Behavioural Resources Australia Pty Ltd where he utilises his extensive professional history of developing custom behaviour management and intervention programs including providing the implementation training.

How to place a Lunch Order

Write the lunch order on a clean brown paper bag and remember to include: Child's name, Class and room number.

Place the money inside the bag and try to include the 'correct amount' if you require change - it will be placed in the bag and returned to your child with their lunch.

Lunch orders are placed in the 'lunch basket' located in each classroom.

The Class Monitor takes the basket to the Office in the morning at 9.00am, and then collects the basket from the canteen at first break to be delivered to the classroom.

If you don't have a paper bag, write your child's order on an envelope with the money enclosed - add 20 cents for the cost of the bag.

Frozen items cannot be included in lunch orders and need to be purchased at the Canteen directly.
