Prep A: Layla Wright for being responsible. Every morning Layla remembers to put her Reader Cover in the tub without being asked. Thank you, Layla.

1 / 2 A: Tiieal Kennedy for showing our school values of Respect, Resilience and Responsibility

1/2 B: Ru Rickhuss has had an unbelievable start at 754. Ru has been able to demonstrate all of the 3 R's both inside and outside the classroom. It has been an absolute pleasure getting to know Ru and it a delight to have Ru in our classroom.

3/4 A: Alivia Hattam for consistently getting the job done!

3/4 B: Amy Jewitt for being an outstanding example of our 3R's Respect, Resilience and Responsibility at all times. It is a pleasure to have you in 3/4B

3/4 C: Lacey Morgan for being a responsible classroom monitor.

5/6 A: Chloe Stevens has made a great start to the year. Chloe has shown responsibility by being on task and being organised. When writing Chloe makes sure she is putting into practise the skills she has been learning.

5/6 B: Saul Townsend This week you stepped up and helped 56B to function. Even though the "date and day monitor" was not your job for the week, you volunteered your time to help out a friend who was absent. Thanks for taking on the extra responsibility!

5/6 C: Autumn Bailey You always see a job that needs doing, and go quietly about getting it done. From setting up chairs in the morning, to getting the whiteboard ready, handing out workbooks and many other little jobs that others don't see. Thanks for being a responsible class member.
